

Express Toll Lanes

Weight Restrictions

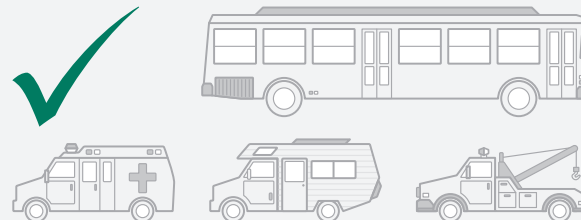

- Trucks weighing more than 10,000 pounds gross vehicle weight may not use the Express Toll Lanes.
- Tow trucks and their towed vehicles may not use the Express Toll Lanes if they exceed 10,000 pounds combined gross vehicle weight.*

* Towing is allowed only if under the weight restriction limit and the tow truck can maintain adequate speed.

Exceptions

- Buses
- Emergency vehicles
- Recreational vehicles
- Tow trucks en route to an emergency

Express Toll Lanes are considered an HOV lane by state law and have the same restrictions as other HOV lanes in Washington, which are intended for high occupancy vehicles like carpools, vanpools, and buses.
