

Summer 2018: changes coming to drive-on entrance only

This summer, the Colman Dock drive-on entrance moves six blocks south to South Jackson Street and Alaskan Way. There are no changes to passenger load zones or pedestrian and bicycle entrances. This configuration is due to construction at Colman Dock and along the Seattle waterfront, and will remain in effect until fall 2018.

Current: All enter at Madison Street

Summer 2018: Vehicle entrance moves to South Jackson Street
